Summer Reading Challenge – Metamorphosis @ Your Library!

Just because school is out doesn't mean we have to stop learning or reading. Studies have shown that children who continue to read during the summer perform better in school in the fall. To encourage our children to continue reading during the summer, we have set up the Summer Reading Challenge! We are challenging our kids to read 50 books or 4,000 pages this summer!

Registration, record keeping, and prize distribution will be done by the Youth Services Librarian, Alanna, at the Kinderhook Memorial Library at 758-6192.

Simply fill out the registration form – which you can find at Ichabod Crane Middle School, Ichabod Crane High School or public library. Every time your child finishes four books and writes one review for the book of his or her choice, he or she receives a chance to win a gift certificate to Blackwood and Bouwer Book Sellers in Kinderhook, movie passes, food coupons or a chance to get Alanna Almstead, Youth Services Librarian at Kinderhook Memorial Library, to eat some chocolate covered bugs if we reach 50 books, and if we reach 75 she will eat crickets! YUM!

The Challenge will begin on June 21st to celebrate the first day of summer! So get your books out and start reading!
